PUBLIC LECTURE AT THE UNIVERSITY OF GREENWICH

Tue 20 January 2009 - 5.30pm

Mark Crinson
JUNK, BUNK AND TOMORROW:
JAMES STIRLING AND POSTWAR BRITAIN

This lecture examines how far Stirling's early career might be understood within a social history of architecture of the postwar period. In particular it focuses on notions of 'nostalgia' and the 'post-industrial' within Stirling's architecture and sees their working-through as productive responses to the situation of modernist architecture in postwar Britain.

Speaker: Mark Crinson is Professor of Art History at the University of Manchester. His books include Modern Architecture and the End of Empire (2003).
